66%

of Venezuelans
are in irregular situations.

41%

of Venezuelans
face linguistic and cultural barriers.

39%

in the English-
speaking Caribbean
are food insecure.

Most

Venezuelans are exposed to numerous
protection risks.

Lack of documentation and pathways to regularization remain critical challenges affecting Venezuelans' rights and access to services across all sectors, and protection risks related to GBV, detention and deportation are particularly severe.

Beyond legal and general protection issues, food insecurity and inadequate shelter were the main needs expressed by Venezuelans in the Caribbean.

Integration challenges persist, as most Caribbean countries are small island nations where refugees & migrants are confronted with limited absorption capacities, cultural-linguistic barriers, and xenophobia.

These factors are compounded in as concerns access to education, with only a small proportion of Venezuelan children and youth attending formal education programs.
